STATEMENT OF WORK

PREPARING DRAFT COPY OF PORT SERIES REPORT NO. 70, THE PORT OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI AND PORTS ALONG THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER (MILES 0 TO 300 AOR)

BACKGROUND:

The Navigation and Systems Division, Navigation Data Center, and its predecessors have been responsible for the periodic revision of the Port Series Reports for over 75 years. The reports in the series cover the principal United States Coastal, Great Lakes and Inland Ports, and are the result of authority granted by statute. Each report constitutes a complete description of the port facilities included within a port area, a group of port areas, or similar port entity.

Each facility description is derived from a combination of acquired data including, but not limited to, personal site inspection by qualified, engineering personnel; personal interview with terminal operators; and review of port facility plans, charts, maps, aerial photography, directories, and other media.

WORK UNDER THIS ORDER:

The project area for this contract shall include approximately 175 facilities located along the Upper Mississippi River (Miles 0 – 300) AOR. The facilities are depicted on maps 1 to 6 of the 1992 edition of Port Series 70. Facilities along the Missouri River (P.W.D. Ref. Nos. 78 to 85) are not included in this contract.

The contractor will be tasked to perform all functions necessary to determine the character of the port area's viable facilities. Each such facility used or capable of being used for handling cargo or for providing services to commercial craft will be visually inspected and pertinent information obtained from a responsible person knowledgeable about the site.

Physical descriptions of each facility will include all items required for updating the Division's ports database (see Appendix I). The current Port Series Report No. 70, revised in 1992, will serve as a guide.

Within 30 calendar days of the conclusion of the field survey, the contractor will submit updated data for each of the 30 specific data fields as shown in Appendix II.

The port facility descriptions will entail updating the information obtained at the last revision in 1992, however, a special effort must be made to include all commercially, viable facilities not previously described, including the approximate date of commencement of operation.

Details of grain elevators, marine repair facilities, and floating equipment will be entered on standard forms. All data to include notebook size site plans, permit plans, sketches, and all pertinent details should be entered in the notebook(s) provided in order that data may then be readily processed into a uniform format and additionally to insure that a permanent record of raw data is available.

Material gathered in the course of the field survey may include, but is not limited to, site plans, port brochures, port directories, maps, charts, aerial photography, personal snapshots, tank lists, crane and mechanical equipment details, business cards, trade publications, and related items.

The contractor will:

1. Prior to the field survey, prepare government furnished standard letters for all individual facilities and storage warehouses.
2. Inform facility operators as to the purpose of the Port Series Reports, explain their use and refer other questions to the Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District.
3. Carefully inspect the entire waterfront area exercising special care so as not to omit any commercially viable facilities.
4. Determine which facilities fit the criteria to be included in survey and which do not.
5. Acquire site plans, as available, for new facilities, for wharf additions, and for other facilities insofar as practicable; also acquire permit plans and drawings from the Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District office as required.

All docking facilities will be photographed to the extent practicable, as allowed. The contractor will be responsible for providing all photographic equipment including film and shall bear the cost of film development.

The contractor is responsible for arranging travel required for the field survey, and for all expenses associated therewith.

In addition to specifically called-for data, other aspects of each facility will be investigated and recorded.
